Special Session On Swine Aid Is Set

Governor To Call Solons Soon To Provide Funds

Date Not Told; 'Complete Indemnification' Seen On Hogs Under Ban With Vesicular Disease

Nebraska's legislators will be called sometime "soon" for a special session of the Unicameral to appropriate funds for the state's share of indemnification to owners of more than 10,000 hogs under quarantine with vesicular exanthema.

Gov. Val Peterson, announced late Friday afternoon that he "wasn't prepared to say just what day," but he will call the special session—the second since the last regular session adjourned.

"Complete indemnification" by the state and federal governments to the 14 owners of the hogs seemed to take precedence over the earlier idea that the two governmental agencies and the hog owners would stand the loss in equal one-third bases.

The plea for "complete indemnification" came from 12 of the 14 owners appearing in Lincoln for a lengthy conference with Peterson and Department of Agriculture officials, after which the governor's decision to make the call was announced.

"We are agreed that vesicular exanthema never can be eradicated in Nebraska unless there is complete indemnification by the state and federal governments," Peterson told newsmen in a press conference.

Officials estimated this might call for as much as $150,000 each from the state and federal government.

End Disease
"The main job is to stamp the disease out of Nebraska to protect the state's 100 million dollar hog industry and to protect Nebraska's serum industry, which produces 25 per cent of the nation's serum," he continued.

Peterson's decision for the call was made, he said, before he had time to study the results of the poll he sent out to the senators earlier in the week to discover if they approved including highway revenue legislation during a special session to work on the hog problem.

Therefore, Peterson would not indicate whether such legislation would come up before the state's senators when they reconvene in Lincoln.

'Chislers'
The argument presented by hog owners for the state and federal governments to stand the loss on the animals was their prediction that there would be "chislers" trying to "get around the market" if the hog owners throughout the state were not reassured of the government's interest in the problem.

Peterson pointed out that there might be individuals with diseased hogs who would get their hogs out from under the quarantine "by (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3.)

—Hog Disease— Full Federal Payment Is Sought

Midwest Farm Bureau
Official Urges Emergency

CHICAGO, (AP)—Farm Bureau officials from 12 midwestern states Friday asked the U.S. Department of Agriculture to declare an "extraordinary national emergency" to halt the spread of the swine disease, vesicular exanthema.

The declaration, the Farm Bureau leaders said, would enable the Federal Government to provide full payment to raisers for infected animals they must slaughter.

Under the present emergency the Federal Government is authorized to pay one half of the loss suffered by raisers provided the other half is paid by the state.

The Bureau leaders said this system has produced a "bottleneck" because of the time involved in securing authorized matching funds from the states.

'No Co-Operation'
"Only four states have funds or have acted to co-operate with the present program," Bureau spokesmen said, "and as a result only a few hogs have been slaughtered under the federal program."

Bureau leaders said federal action now would insure eradication of the disease with a minimum expenditure of funds. Further delay could result in a great reduction in the country's supply of meat, they said.

The request for extended government aid was made following a one-day meeting of state Bureau leaders from Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Kansas.

Local Control Of Basin Projects Urged

... Commission Gets Testimony Against MVA Plan

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

A host of testimony was presented to the Missouri Basin Survey Commission Friday afternoon in opposition to establishment of any type of "authority" control for administration of developments in the basin.

Speaking against an "Authority" and in favor of a maximum of local control of basin projects were representatives of the Mississippi Valley Association, Consumers Public Power District, Nebraska Public Power System, Omaha Chamber of Commerce and others.

Several commission members, Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall of Colorado, H. T. Peterson, dean of the College of Engineering, University of Wyoming, and Fred V. Heinkel, Columbia, Mo., president of the Missouri Farmers Association, disagreed to an extent with the above philosophy.

Some Differ
They argued that with the federal government putting up the lion's share of the funds for basin development, the government should have more than an equal voting voice with the states in regards to administering basin projects.

Speaking for the Mississippi Valley Association, Everett E. Winter told the Commission, "If the Commission wishes to unite the Missouri Basin people, it can be done with a recommendation for a Missouri Valley Authority."

"I am sure that a very high percentage of the people of the Missouri Basin will join hands to fight any bill introduced in Congress that resembles any of the M. V. A. bills introduced during or since 1945."

Winter also called for a continuation and increase of soil conservation practices and added that "the small watershed treatment, in our opinion, is absolutely necessary to supplement, but not to act as a substitute for the presently authorized program."

D. G. DeBoer, executive director of the Nebraska Public Power System, stated the opposition in Nebraska to federal control of basin projects stems from the early pioneer's independence.

"It is our sincere hope," said DeBoer, "that this Commission's report will recommend to the Congress and the President of the United States a speeding up of projects proposed under the Pick-Sloan plan so that early completion may be accomplished."

Objections to federal control of completed basin projects were also presented by Ray Schacht, general manager of Consumers Public Power District.

Schacht answered "possibly" to a question from Commission Chairman James E. Lawrence asking if some central administering group might be needed to oversee power rates charged in relation to water rates for irrigation purposes.

Schacht hedged slightly but agreed basically with Lawrence's opinion that power can be manufactured cheaper from a river than it can by steam.

A compact plan for administration, similar to the one proposed earlier by Gov. Val Peterson, was advanced in the afternoon by Paul Good, attorney for the Omaha Chamber of Commerce.

Basin projects, he said, should be operated by existing agencies—the Reclamation Association handling irrigation and the Army Engineers handling flood control. A state and federal board with equal voting rights should be established.

Maj. Finnigan, Lincoln, Is Honored For Korea Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of marines now stationed in the Washington area—one of them from Lincoln, Neb.—went before their commandant to receive medals and citations for action in Korea.

Maj. John E. Finnigan, 32, brother of Mrs. Marie L. Phillips, 5123 A, Lincoln, Neb., was awarded a letter of commendation ribbon with combat "V" for excellent service from July to December, 1951, as assistant personnel officer of Marine Aircraft Group 33.

Maj. Finnigan, who was born and reared in New York City, moved to Lincoln in 1943, attending the University of Nebraska law school. Later, he received a law degree from Notre Dame where he had earlier attended school.

A veteran of nearly 4 years of Marine Corps service in World War II, Maj. Finnigan was recalled in July 1950. He was transferred to the Korea battle zone in July, 1951, returning here in January, 1952.

Maj. Finnigan's wife and two boys, 8 and 5, now reside at Falls Church, Va.

Handing out the award was Gen. Lemeul C. Shepherd Jr., Marine Corps Commandant.

Government Suit Names 4 Oil Firms

All Are Accused Of Price Juggling

NEW YORK (AP)—The government sued four giant oil companies for 67 million dollars Friday, claiming it had been overcharged for Middle Eastern oil shipped to Europe under the foreign aid program. Six subsidiary companies also were named in the federal court action.

Atty. Gen. McGranery charged that the companies had flooded the federal laws passed to hold the price of crude oil at reasonable levels while the free world re-arm.

Three separate suits were filed in the U. S. District Court here with Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, the Texas Company and Socoy-Vacuum of New York as the principal defendants. Six of their subsidiaries also were named.

The attorney general said in a statement issued in Washington: "This action is of great importance, not only because of the 67 million dollars which the government seeks to recover, but also as a test of whether the defendants, having control over the supply of Middle East crude oil shipped to countries participating in the foreign aid program, can block the efforts of the government agencies to protect government funds committed to European recovery and defense."

The New York litigation is part of a general war declared on alleged international oil cartels by Congress and the administration. Thursday the Mutual Security Administration made public a report accusing five big companies of "price discrimination on a world-wide scale." It named the Gulf Oil Co. and the four firms sued Friday.

Debris Litters Streets Of California City; Business District Takes Brunt Of Disaster

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — A tumultuous earthquake Friday smashed Bakersfield, oil and agricultural center in South-Central California, and killed at least two persons in the wreckage of the downtown business district.

The streets were buried in rubble, waist deep in places, and the sheriff's office said that there may be more dead under the tons of debris.

The Fire Department, by volunteer workers, is going through the wreckage in search of dead and injured.

Twenty-nine persons were known to be injured, eight of them seriously.

The devastating shock lashed the picturesque city of 50,000 at 4:41 p.m. (CST). Then two hours later, as the city gasped for breath, a follow-up tremor rocked the area. The second shock was reported at 6:48 p.m. (CST). There were also several light aftershocks.

Damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

It was exactly one month and a day from the date when California's second strongest earthquake killed 11 persons outright at nearby Tehachapi and caused the death of three others.

Friday's awesome quake was heralded by the sickening side-to-side swaying of the earth. Then came the rumble residents of this stricken area have come to fear.

Tons of crumbled debris poured into the streets, sometimes waist high.

(Authorities at California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, said the quake was not quite as severe as the recent Tehachapi earthquake, but that damage might be more extensive. The Tehachapi quake caused $40,000,000 in damage.)

One woman was known to have been killed when the roof of Lerner's Department Store collapsed.

One man was known to have died in the collapse of the Kern County Equipment Co.

Sheriff's Captain F. E. Jones identified the woman as Mrs. Edna Ledbetter of McFarland, and the man as Tapcon Cosby, 67, of Bakersfield. Jones listed the names of 14 injured and said the list was still growing.

Despite the extensive damage, the tremor lasted only a few seconds. Estimates of its duration ranged four to 10 seconds.

Buildings already damaged by the Tehachapi quake disaster of July 21, the second worst earthquake in California history, and by a strong aftershock the morning of July 29 came tumbling down.

Church Spires Split
The two spires of St. Francis Catholic Church, built at the turn of the century, split wide open and police roped off the area, fearing that they might fall.

The quake struck on a stifling hot day, with the temperature at 100 degrees and not a breath of breeze.

As tons of rubble cascaded into the street, a vast cloud of dust enveloped the business district and, with no wind to move it away, it hung there for minutes.

Streets buckled and motorists said that driving was "like riding the roller coaster." Bus riders were thrown to the floor.

Educator Returns From Europe:

'Tourists Create Misunderstanding'

By MARILYN KIRKBY
Star Staff Writer

The European's misunderstanding of America is due, in part, to the American tourist—for America means different things to different people.

Dr. Albin T. Anderson, University of Nebraska history professor, made the above observation after spending three months this summer touring the northern European countries, including Finland, Norway, Sweden, and Denmark.

However, the tourist from the United States today is better-mannered than his pre-war counterpart.

"Part of that is due to the fact that younger people are touring Europe today and they are more sensitive to local feelings," Dr. Anderson said.

Not all the blame rests on the American's shoulders, though. Dr. Anderson feels that the average European thinks himself much wiser and much more sophisticated than his cousin from across the seas. "They forget that the United States has the oldest constitution in the world and our form of government has lasted longer than any of the 50 major states," Dr. Anderson said.

Dr. Anderson found that the northern European countries (Norway and Denmark) involved in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization resent American intervention in their affairs, but "they are committed and they will not falter."

A contradiction exists in the average European's mind—he dislikes American intervention, yet, when it seemed that Taft was about to be nominated for the presidency, Dr. Anderson found the European worried for fear meeting our representatives that his (Taft's) nomination abroad," Dr. Anderson said.

would mean the end of U. S. internationalism.

"Europeans do not realize that although the party in power may change, the soul of our policy does not," Dr. Anderson explained.

"Although we have a tremendous amount of responsibility that we are exercising throughout the world and we will make, and have made, the inevitable mistakes, I am much more confident of the intelligence of our policies after meeting our representatives abroad," Dr. Anderson said.

Finland, "a nervous country," interested Dr. Anderson. The Finns live in the shadow of the Russian might and yet are trying to live free lives. "They are admirably attempting not to endanger their free status," Dr. Anderson said. "Everything they do and say and write is marked by restraint."

Coal Production Ceases As Miners Take Holiday

PITTSBURGH (INS)—The nation's coal production came to a halt Friday night as nearly half a million of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers embark on a 10-day memorial holiday without pay.

The work stoppage ordered by UMW President Lewis begins officially Saturday and continues through Sept. 1, although only a handful of big six-day pits were expected to work the last shift Friday night.

Lewis officially gave the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service Friday the necessary 30-day notice for a possible strike. But UMW officials emphasized that the action is a legal formality and that negotiations between the union and operators have not broken down.

Steep Output Safe

The "captive" mines of the major steel companies go down at midnight. The work halt will have no effect on steel production, which resumed recently after a 55-day steel strike.

The miners' exit from the pits follows a report by Lewis Friday that contract negotiations with the industry are deadlocked.

Coal sources, until recently optimistic that the union and industry could come to terms this year without any interruption of production, admittedly were beginning to "fear the worst."

They figured that with stockpiles at an all-time high, production down, miner employment unsteady and coal prices at the lowest ebb in five years, Lewis would see no wisdom in a strike.

An important coal source admitted, however, that "nobody knows what is going on any more. It just isn't logical. When you add up two and two, they don't make four."

He said that until only recently, coal men generally were confident there could be no strike because of the "very poor conditions of the industry."

"When we're in an up market, yes, you could expect anything of John Lewis. But in a down cycle as we are now, it just doesn't make sense to strike. But that's what may happen."

Judge Polk Attempts To Find Truth In 2 Juvenile Court Cases But Search Fails

By TOM RISCHIE
Star Staff Writer

Acting Juvenile Judge John L. Polk sought for the truth in two cases Friday, but after the hearings were over, the truth still eluded him.

In the first, the judge heard more testimony in the case of a 10-year-old boy who claimed that his step-father had beaten him without provocation "lots of times." The step-father claimed that the boy was making up much, if not all, the story.

The boy declared that it is "all right with me" if he is taken away from his step-father and mother, and placed in someone else's care. He said he would live with his mother alone, but not his step-father, although it would be all right if the step-father would come and visit sometimes.

He said he had run away on several occasions because his step-father was cruel to him. He was recently picked up in Havelock, where he asked for a place to spend the night. He said his step-father had beat, kicked and thrown things at him.

The step-father claimed that the boy was making up much, if not all, the story.

In the other case, the judge faced three 12-year-old boys. One of the boys claimed that he had been told by one of the others to cut the bicycle tires of a fourth boy. He said he had done so because he "thought it would be fun."

The other youth denied telling him to cut the tires, but admitted giving him the knife to cut them. He and the third boy watched as the tires were cut, he said.

Judge Polk placed the boys on probation, with orders that the probation officer get the truth from the three boys.

Ambulance Driver Qualifications To Be Studied By Council

Ambulance attendants and emergency equipment will be listed on the agenda of the City Council Monday.

The Lincoln-Lancaster Safety Council has proposed an ordinance governing qualifications of ambulance drivers and the materials carried in their vehicles.

The Safety Council's ordinance would necessitate two sets of Timmer splints, 12 triangle bandages, two sand bags, six sterile compress bandages, and a standard First Aid kit carried in the ambulance each time it goes out on a call.

The ordinance would further require a certificate of qualification from the City Health Department for the driver.

Gifford Mullins, chairman of the Safety Council, urges all persons interested in the passage of the ordinance to attend the City Council meeting.

hook or crook to protect their own pocketbooks."

The governor said he knew there had already been numerous opinions challenging any indemnification of the owners at all.

"These people are thinking that if a merchant leaves his merchandise on the shelf and the rain leaks through the roof, the government doesn't stand the loss," Peterson continued. "But this doesn't contaminate the other merchandise."

"It's the theory of the law... not to protect the diseased animals, but to protect the total hog industry," he said.

'Extra Meet Should Study Aid Boost'

OMAHA (AP)—The Nebraska Legislature, if called into special session to deal with the hog disease, vesicular exanthema, should be asked to increase Nebraska's old age assistance, Sen. Hugh Butler was quoted as saying Friday.

State Senator Sam Klaver, Omaha, said Sen. Butler told him a recommendation for an increase of $10 per month to $65 for old age assistance recipients could be acted upon by the Legislature at almost no additional cost to the state's taxpayers.

The recommendation by Sen. Butler was prompted by a statement by Mrs. Harold Prince, member of the Board of Control. Sen. Butler had deplored the fact that Nebraska had not taken advantage of the opportunity to increase the assistance payments without cost to the taxpayers of the state and Mrs. Prince took exception to his statement.

"Fact is," continued the Senator, "it would not cost Nebraska much, if any, additional taxes, because the increase which Congress has authorized in the Social Security payments. These increases were the result of the increased cost of living. Surely Nebraska's old people under the Assistance program have also felt the inflationary cost of living," Senator Butler said.

Painter Appears Before Court In Handcuffs; Gets Settlement For Injuries

A painter was awarded $127 under terms of a lump sum settlement approved in District Court Friday, but he appeared in handcuffs, and in the company of a guard.

However, Bates was handcuffed as he testified before Judge John L. Polk because he is now serving time in the State Penitentiary on a burglary charge.

Bates was assured by his guard that the money would be placed in safe-keeping.

Wishart Likes Ike's Position On Farm Plan

State Republican Finance Chairman Joseph Wishart, back from Gen. Eisenhower's Midwest conference at Kansas City, Kan., is impressed with the general's statement that no change should be made in the present farm program unless it was something that would improve the condition of the farmers.

Talking with a number of mid-west farm leaders there Wishart said most of them wanted a statement that would assure the farmers they wouldn't be put in a disadvantageous position by taking away everything gained up to the present time.

Eisenhower, Wishart said, in summing up the farm problem wanted to say "short and understandable rather than technical."

He told the group, according to Wishart, that a system of military training could not be divided into halves — using both Universal Military Training and Selective Service—it must be one or the other.

Naval Air Reserve Squadrons End Gulf Of Mexico Cruise

Members of the Lincoln Naval Air Reserve squadrons will officially end their cruise in the Gulf of Mexico on Saturday, Aug. 23, when they return to Lincoln.

Because of a heavy schedule on the part of the USS Cabot, the aircraft carrier upon which the Lincoln Reservists trained, the voyage was ended one day sooner than expected. The squadrons were returned to Pensacola, Fla., on Wednesday.

During the three days on the water, pilots of the Reserve group qualified in carrier landings and take-offs.

The last week and a half has seen squadron personnel working day and night, familiarizing themselves with new equipment, re-shipment procedures, and the handling of aircraft aboard carriers.

Petition Filed Asks Suit Be Remanded

Lincoln Attorney Max Kier, who filed an action against the Guarantee Mutual Company of Omaha seeking invalidation of an officer retirement program, has filed a petition in Federal Court, asking the original suit be sent back to Lancaster District Court.

Federal Judge John Delehant had previously signed an order moving the case to Federal Court from District Court, where it was originally filed. Kier claims that the case involves mainly Nebraska citizens, and not citizens of various states.

Raecke Sets First Lincoln Political Talk

Walter Raecke, Democratic candidate for governor, will make his first major campaign appearance in Lincoln at a dinner at the Lincoln Hotel Wednesday evening.

The dinner, which will be at 7 p.m., is sponsored by the Lancaster County Democratic Central Committee.

Among those attending will be Bernard J. Boyle, Omaha attorney elected state Democratic national committeeman at the convention earlier this month, according to Joe Ginsburg, county Democratic chairman.

Other Democratic candidates for state office are also expected to attend, and will be introduced, Ginsburg said. Stanley Long, Grand Island, candidate for the long term in the U. S. Senate, is expected to attend.

Ginsburg said, however, that Raecke will be the main speaker, with other programs planned later by the county organization to boost the other candidates.

Included on the program Wednesday night will be a skit by the Lancaster County Young Democratic Club, and singing led by Fleda Ziegenbein. Ginsburg will preside.

Raecke's Campaign Delayed By Illness

CHADRON, Neb. (AP)—Walter Raecke, Democratic candidate for governor, was confined to his hotel room here Friday with a slight illness.

Dahlman Phillips, manager of the Niles Hotel, said the Central City attorney developed a fever before dinner Thursday night but that it had subsided Friday. He said Raecke would leave Saturday.

Raecke's physician declined to comment on the nature of the illness.

A scheduled speech by Raecke here Thursday night was cancelled because of his illness.

Eisenhower Doesn't Share McCarthy's Views On Marshall

Saturday, August 23, 1952 THE LINCOLN STAR 3

'Token Help' Best Solon Can Expect

...In His Campaign

DENVER (INS)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower strongly implied his disapproval of Sen. Joseph McCarthy Friday and indicated he will not give him "blanket support."

However, the GOP presidential nominee hinted that McCarthy would receive "token support" if nominated by repeating his previous position that it is necessary to support all Republicans to assure Republican control in Congress.

Eisenhower clarified his position on McCarthy at a news conference at which he angrily defended Gen. George Marshall, subject of a violent attack by McCarthy.

Some Variation

Eisenhower's announcement varied somewhat from that of his running mate, vice presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon, who declared in Washington that both he and Ike will support McCarthy for re-election if the Wisconsin Republican is chosen to run again.

Nixon qualified the statement by adding that neither he nor Ike will "necessarily" endorse McCarthy's views or methods.

Eisenhower was more emphatic, declaring:

"I am not going to campaign for or give a blanket endorsement to anyone who has clearly violated my ideas of custom and right."

He added: "It would be impossible for me to give blanket support to anyone who has violated my concept of what is decent, right, just and fair."

Asked by a reporter whether he would apply the remark specifically to McCarthy, Ike declared bluntly: "If you can't take what I have just said and apply it to the facts as you know them, then there isn't much I can do about it."

Shows Anger

Eisenhower leaped to his feet and strode angrily about the room when a reporter referred to the blistering attack on Marshall by McCarthy in a Senate speech some time ago.

The Wisconsin lawmaker charged that Marshall had been part of a conspiracy that resulted in the Communists' gaining control of China and accused him, in effect, of disloyalty to the nation.

Eisenhower declared wrathfully: "I have no patience with anyone who can find in his (Marshall's) record of service to his country cause for criticism."

He continued: "There is no disloyalty to America in George Marshall's soul. George Marshall is one of the patriots of the country—a man of real selflessness."

Asked directly why he would give any support to McCarthy, in view of the senator's attacks on Marshall, Eisenhower repeated his previous position that it is necessary to support all Republicans to assure Republican control in Congress.

He added: "I want to see the Republican organization elected so that there can be single-party responsibility in Washington."

Reaffirms Korean Stand
The comments on McCarthy highlighted the news conference at which the GOP nominee also reaffirmed his statement that the U. S. had to go into the Korean War.

Referring to his Korean statement before a group of Republican leaders in Kansas City Thursday, Eisenhower declared: "We allowed ourselves to get in a position where we probably had to go into Korea—that is all I said."

He added: "I made it very clear I excused nothing that led up to it."

DEMOCRATIC DEVELOPMENT

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, who gave Gov. Adlai Stevenson a tough fight for the Democratic nomination, has turned down an invitation to serve in Stevenson's cabinet as attorney-general—that is, if Stevenson wins.

Invitation Rejected

The Tennessean said he was approached about two weeks ago by associates of Stevenson but said he was—as he put it—not interested. Just before going to New York Friday to board a ship for a European vacation, Kefauver told reporters that results from the federal crackdown on racketeers have been encouraging but that he is still going to press for the establishment of a permanent crime commission.

REPUBLICAN DEVELOPMENT

DENVER (INS)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower said Friday that he is a fellow who "believes what he says and says nothing he doesn't believe."

Ike Thanks His Staff

The Republican presidential nominee made the remark at a "farewell" meeting with more than 100 staff workers at his Denver headquarters at which he noted with a grin that he is "not supposed to be too bright."

Eisenhower will leave Denver Sunday for New York, which will be his base of operations until he takes off on his first swing around the nation by campaign train. Ike declared in thanking his staff for their work in his behalf that he is "trying to do my best by the United States of America."

He added: "You might remember that when you read that this group or the other group is not completely satisfied."

Treading Very Softly

Within less than 100 hours, Gen. Eisenhower came to grips with two of the thorniest issues which will confront him in his campaign for the presidency. One need not be a partisan Republican to sympathize deeply with him in his troubles. He is up against something that is both tough and far-reaching.

First is the question of Korean intervention. A very large and vocal element within his party has sought to convince the American people that the United Nations' action in Korea, headed by the United States, is unnecessary—an unnecessary war—a ghastly blunder. That view echoed again and again throughout the deliberations of the Republican National Convention in Chicago last month. In the individual congressional races, it promises to play an insistent part. Gen. Eisenhower had to make his choice. Should he string along with those within his party who, heedless of consequences internationally, hammer away day after day in the claim that the United States has no business in Korea—and that her thousands of fighting men there are being sacrificed needlessly?

Gen. Eisenhower's answer could be interpreted so as to give little comfort to both sides. He said that a series of blunders, without pointing specifically to them, was responsible for the Korean situation. But once the Communists attacked, he declared, there was no choice but intervention. And if there had not been intervention, the Korean problem would be much more grave. From Gen. Eisenhower's seat, that is perhaps about the best answer he could give. He must have known it is impossible to please both sides. It is one of those cases where a man is damned if he does, and damned if he doesn't. Gen. Eisenhower isn't going to endear himself especially to that large, powerful element within his party by siding with President Truman on Korean intervention—and it is doubtful if he has strengthened himself with those who believe there was no other prudent, honorable course for the United States to adopt other than the one adopted.

It is a matter of regret—a regret attended by real dangers—that Korean intervention has to be fought out here at home as well as on the Korean battlefields.

There ought to be a better way out than the choice left in a free country where anything under the sun can be thrown open to political controversy. And yet we would not have it any other way, which in itself imposes a great measure of restraint upon the thoughtful individual—much more thoughtful than some individuals in public life seem to be.

The second thorn popped up not through any affirmative action by Gen. Eisenhower himself but because new life was pumped into the issue of McCarthyism as a result of a remarkable, impressive statement by one of Gen. Eisenhower's staunchest supporters, Paul Hoffman. Testifying in a court action, Mr. Hoffman described in unequivocal language the charges brought by Sen. McCarthy against Gen. George C. Marshall as false. Marshall has long been one of Eisenhower's warmest friends. And yet it appeared from a statement given out by Sen. Mundt of South Dakota that if requested by Sen. McCarthy, up for re-election, Gen. Eisenhower would speak in Wisconsin and would plead for the re-election of Republican candidates on the theory that the people of a state have the right to choose any type of representative they desire.

That is slicing it rather thin. Either the McCarthy technique, with the challenge that many Americans feel it presents, is right or wrong and the mere dressing it up with a party label does not in the slightest sense alter the issue of right or wrong. It will be up to Sen. McCarthy, if Mundt is presenting Gen. Eisenhower's view, to do the asking and then it will be up to Gen. Eisenhower to do the pleading for the return of McCarthy to a Senate seat. The fact that McCarthy may typify much or all in which Gen. Eisenhower believes seems to be a matter of slight consequence. Nor is that position seemingly appropriate to the spirit of a great cause.

The repercussions are yet to come. But twice within a very short time, some of the fundamental problems with which Gen. Eisenhower must deal have arisen much earlier than had been anticipated. They are to play a very prominent role while the campaign takes shape.

Where Does The Money Go?

We are quite sure that over at the City Hall, the members of the Lincoln City Council from Mayor Vic Anderson on down, realize that taxes ride every man, woman and child today.

A little over a year ago, the people of this community gave the council authority to levy an additional approximate $400,000 in taxes to carry out a long-range program of sorely needed public improvements. The result reflects itself in the collections for the fiscal year. The city has taken in $1,637,807, which sets an all-time record. And the zeal, the genuine spirit of the people of this community was reflected in the fact that 96.18 per cent of the levy for 1951-1952 has been collected. This is the slightest fraction of 1 per cent below a year ago.

It isn't strange, then, that a great many people are asking where the money has gone. They voted with a flock of glittering promises of permanent improvements dinned in their ears. They were told that if they granted the city government this additional revenue, they could anticipate that neglected wants would be taken care of over a period of time. They, as yet, have not seen any tangible results in the most pressing of public improvements. They know that a very sizeable chunk of this revenue was taken for the purpose of salary and wage adjustments, a very necessary step although opinion may honestly differ over whether the council has been doling out the money too generously.

More distressing is the fact that a year later, the people still are waiting for a long-range improvement program—set down year by year so as to carry assurance that the things that need doing are or will be done. It may be up to the watchdog committee which has no actual authority and which itself must be distressed in the absence of more concrete evidence that the improvement program is on its way. The trouble rests in the fact that the council itself is on the job only part time, at least in theory, and it must rely upon directors who, after all, are merely administrative officials, supposedly without policy-making authority.

Patience is a virtue but it can be exhausted. There are a lot of people in this community, and their numbers are growing, who have just about lost patience with the City Hall.

Cold Water On A Bright Hope

Hopes for a treaty with Austria which would end the seven-year occupation of that country were dashed when Soviet Russia refused to agree to an abbreviated treaty proposed to end the long negotiations. The Austrian people, who have been agitating for complete freedom through the long years of foreign occupation by Britain, France, Soviet Russia and the United States, can be excused the bitterness which its press has been expressing with genuine fervor.

It is an ironic fact that all four powers conceded before the end of World War II that Austria was not a belligerent. Moscow declared in 1943 that Austria was a "victim of Hitlerite aggression" and should be "liberated from German domination."

Everyone agreed that they wanted to see a "free and independent Austria" re-established. Austria itself has consistently called the proposed document not a peace treaty but a "Staatsvertrag"—a state treaty. Yet seven years after the end of the war that unfortunate country finds itself more limited in its opportunity for independent action than the country which invaded it, Germany.

A total of 258 meetings have been held in an attempt to work out an agreement with Soviet Russia. For many months the demands of Yugoslavia for a part of Southern Austria, Carinthia, were supported by the Russian negotiators. But when Marshal Tito revolted against Moscow domination in 1948, the Russians no longer pressed that claim.

This, however, did not bring agreement. Again and again the obdurate Communist negotiators found something with which to quarrel, and when a satisfactory solution would be found they would find something new with which to express dissatisfaction.

It is clear that the Russians are reluctant to leave Austria, where they are making good use of that nation's oil treasure. They also know that a stable, independent anti-Communist Austria would eventually line up with the West in the struggle against the Kremlin. Caught in the squeeze of power politics, the Austrian people are suffering the effects of an unwanted occupation, but fortunately they have shown the wisdom to place the blame squarely where it belongs—on Soviet Russia.

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

WEEPING WATER, Neb.—The flavor of an all-time favorite country sport—horseshoe pitching—was featured this year at the annual Cass County Fair here.

The play-offs in the horseshoe tourney which brought to a close the three-day fair Friday night were won by Bob Mayfield, Louisville; Harry Stokes, Murdoch; A. C. King, Alvo; and Oliver Mayfield, Alvo. The championship crown for final competition went to Stokes, with Oliver and Bob Mayfield taking second and third places respectively.

Thousands of county people visited the fair midway and exhibit buildings which were set up in downtown Weeping Water. The midway extended down Main Street.

Another new feature of this year's fair was a 4-H tractor driving contest which tested the drivers' abilities to back machine into and out of narrow spaces. Winning tractor drivers were: Leiland Meisinger, Plattsmouth; Bob Parriott, Plattsmouth; Jimmy Boller, John Knabe and Gerald Switzer, all of Nehawka.

Mel Todd Jr. of Union was the undisputed leader of 4-H members in honors won; he took both grand and reserve grand champion for a Hereford beef entry as well as grand champion for an Angus beef entry. Others winners in beef were: Hunter Ingwersen, Plattsmouth, and Betty Todd of Murray.

Richard Cole won the open class in sheep entries, and Weldon Steehr, the top for market lambs. Dairy winners were: Kenneth Choat, Nehawka; Gary Earl, Eagle; Erma Kirchhoff, Weeping Water; Kathy Streich, Murdoch, and John Knabe, Nehawka.

Cass County Agent Clarence Schmadeke officiated at the tractor contest and Joe Bender was general secretary of the fair.

$1,600 Taken From Safe At Albion Garage

ALBION, Neb. (AP)—Using one of the firm's own acetylene torch outfits, robbers forced open the safe at the Dewey Miller garage in Albion and apparently got away with between $1,500 and $1,600 in cash and checks. They neatly wrapped the hose around the acetylene tank before leaving.

The garage was one of five establishments entered during the night.

Broke Safe Open

At the Glasgow Pool Hall, the thieves took $3.50 worth of nickels and a pool cue which they used to break in a door at the Coast to Coast store next door.

At the latter store they broke open a safe and got about $15. They also took a small radio but left it at Frank Svoboda's Produce station, where they took about $30, according to Svoboda.

A Safeway store was entered by forcing the lock on the back door but as far as the manager could determine, nothing was missing.

Also entered was Doering's Ready-To-Wear store, but Mrs. William Doering said nothing appeared to have been taken.

Shells Missing

Three or four boxes of shotgun shells were missing from the Coast to Coast store but new guns on the shelves were not taken.

Dewey Miller, operator of the garage which was entered, said he could not immediately determine how much of the $1,500 or more taken was in cash, and how much in checks.

Although the place was ransacked, with papers strewn all around, no merchandise appeared to be missing. The garage was held "as is" for the arrival of State Safety Patrolmen to take fingerprints.

The garage is one of the largest in this part of Nebraska, employing about 25 persons.

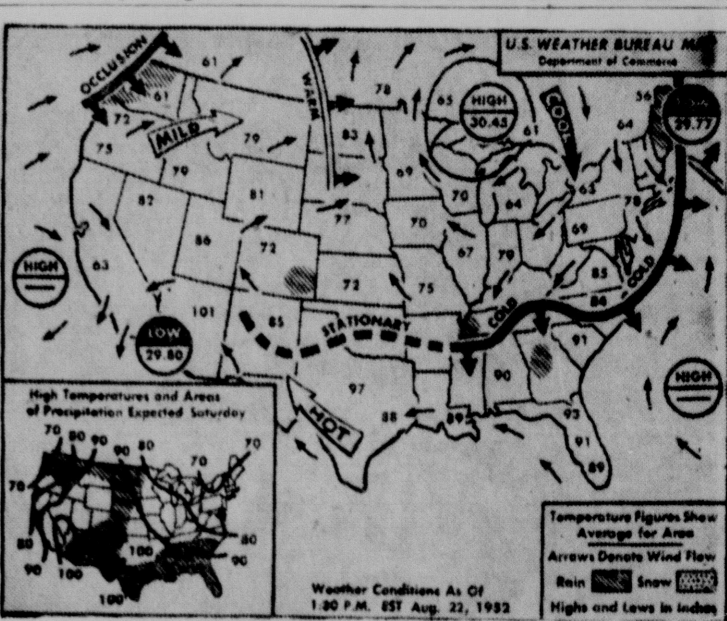

The robbers also opened an empty cash register and a lock box containing parts.

Big Days Coming

THINGS WILL be different four weeks from today—The town will be filled with guests—there will be pre-game luncheons—post-game dinners, and all sorts of in-between game and dinner activity—Oh me, we can hardly wait—But after all just because August is getting older by the day is no reason to completely ignore a month that has been weather perfect—In fact August has considerable to offer—travelers, homecomers and late summer guests—

AND SPEAKING of guests—there are some interesting ones in town—Mrs. Arthur Reitter and her daughter, Carolyn Beth, have arrived from Rangoon, Burma, for a visit with Mrs. Reitter's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Ryerson.

THE WEEK-END has brought more guests—this time from California. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Meeker came Friday to spend a long week-end as the guests of Mr. Meeker's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rogers. Mr. and Mrs. Meeker, by the way, stopped off en route to their home from Europe where they had spent three months touring the Scandinavian countries, France and Switzerland.

HAVE SOME new residents in Lincoln, so we hear—Dr. and Mrs. Harold Bruskewitz and their three sons, Reg, Bob and Jim, who arrived last week from Bellingham, Wash. Dr. Bruskewitz, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and the Marquette (Wis.) school of medicine, will be associated with Dr. Everett Angle. At the moment the Bruskewitz family is in the throes of house hunting.

RIGHT NOW we'll turn to the chapter on homecomers and tell you that Dr. and Mrs. J. Marshall Neely, their daughter, Miss Mary Jean Neely, their son, Jack, and Mrs. Neely's mother, Mrs. E. M. Barlow, are home again after a vacation at Shell Lake, Wis.

SOMEONE TOLD us, too, that Miss Jo Jen Loder is back in town after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Merle Loder in Winnetka, Ill., and with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Decker in Evanston.

THEN WE discovered that Sunday is homecoming day for Mr. and Mrs. George Bastain and their family who have been spending a two weeks holiday in Minnesota.

THAT ABOUT takes care of Saturday's quota of returnees—and we'll go on to travelers—Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Baylor left on Thursday for California where, about September 15, they will be on hand for the meeting of the American Bar association, which opens on that date. Mr. and Mrs. Baylor will spend some time at some of the interesting spots between here and the coast where they will be joined by their son, John Baylor, who will arrive in San Francisco just in time for the meeting.

Jacqueline Reinick Is Bride

hauser who sang preceding the ceremony.

Autumn shades of green, gold beige, lilac and pink were chosen for the costumes of the attendants including Mrs. Ruth R. Laak of San Clemente, Calif., who was her cousin's matron of honor, and who appeared in the green tone; Miss Dannee Jean Sitzman of Huntington Park, Calif., the maid of honor, in the gold beige shade; the bridesmaids, Miss Charlotte Hervet, Miss Dolores Wertz and Miss Betty Jean Reinick, cousin of the bride, all in the lilac tone, and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Linda Ann Schuldeis, who wore pink. The frocks were fashioned of lace and iridescent taffeta, lace forming the fitted bodices, and the taffeta creating the very wide skirts. Their costumes were completed with frock-toned taffeta bonnets and lace mitts, and their basket bouquets were in contrasting shades of asters. Sharon Marie Heckel and Becky Jane Hergenrader, in blue-sashed frocks of pink net over pink taffeta, were the flower girls, and Alan Floth carried the ring. The candles were lighted by Timothy Darnauer and Stephen Sommers.

Oscar Weidler of Rochester, Minn., served his brother as best man. Paul Young of Clay Center was the groomsmen, and seating the guests were Lloyd Ang of Valparaiso; Ron Cutler, Elsie; Kurt Sienknecht, Kansas City, Mo., and Robert J. Reitz. Given in marriage by her uncle, John Hergenrader, the bride chose for her wedding gown of Rose Point lace over white satin. The long-sleeved fitted bodice was designed with a sheer velvet neckline contoured with lace applique. The voluminous skirt swept into a cathedral train. A calot of net, its halo brim filled in with orange blossoms, held to the head her four-tiered veil of illusion, and she carried a white Bible marked with white orchids from which fell a shower of satin ribbons and clusters of stephanotis. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

After a honeymoon trip, for which Mrs. Weidler wore a mauve-toned suit with blue accessories, Mr. Weidler and his bride will return to Lincoln to reside. Mrs. Weidler is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Delta Zeta sorority, and this year will be a member of the Lincoln public schools faculty. Mr. Weidler has attended Nebraska Wesleyan where he is a member of Theta Chi fraternity and now is a student at the University of Nebraska.

Weidler, son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Weidler of Nashua, Ia., which

Elaine Row Is Bride

Spreading arrangements of pink daisies and gladioli shading from white to pink, and tall candles burning in seven-branched candelabra formed the chancel decor at Grace Methodist Church for the marriage of Miss Elaine Row daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton R. Row, to Robert L. Saddoris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Saddoris, Friday evening, August 22. The lines of the 8 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Harold Sandall.

The candles were lighted by Miss Norma Jean Cook and Miss Pat Matthews, wearing white satin choir robes, and Miss Naegeli von Bergen, organist, played the wedding music. As the 175 guests assembled, Miss Susanne Rumpelberg sang, "At Dawning," and "For You Alone," accompanied by Miss von Bergen.

Wearing identical frocks of nylon net over taffeta in the raspberry pink shade were the matron of honor, Mrs. Ronald D. Wasser, sister of the bridegroom, and the bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Braden and Mrs. Fred J. Bauer. Narrow rows of net ruching framed the strapless bodices, covered with net stoles, and the demi-length skirts were snugly sashed with satin. They wore noseveils of net and carried straw paniers filled with pink daisies.

The bride wore for her wedding a period gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The rose motif of the lace outlined the low decollete of the bodice, which was completed by long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Appliques of the lace trimmed the full tulle skirt, which tapered into a train, and a bandeau of lace and satin held her veil of silk illusion. Her bridal bouquet was fashioned of feathered white carnations centered with an orchid and frilled with white net.

William Saddoris served as best man, and the ushers were Ronald Wasser and Richard Saddoris.

Included among those assisting at the reception, and at the church, were Mrs. Ralph Wells, Mrs. Emory Blue, Mrs. Walter Hall, Mrs. Merle Ruth, Mrs. Roland Kelley, Mrs. William Mook, Miss Marguerite Hac, Miss Nancy Row, Miss Dawn Saddoris, Miss Donna Kelley, Miss Dixie Kelley, Mrs. Henry Haack, Mrs. Elmer DeKay, Mrs. Leslie Loomis, Mrs. D. Peterson Urges Pick-Sloan, Young Plans For Basin

Combined Agency Is Suggested

The Pick-Sloan and Young plans for development of the Missouri River basin and a combined state and federal agency for administration of completed basin projects was presented in Lincoln Friday by Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska to members of the Missouri Basin Survey Commission.

The Pick-Sloan plan for development of large dams and the Young plan for soil conservation and the stabilization of small streams would provide a balanced program, said the governor, that would enable progress in 30 years that would normally take 100 years.

For control and administration of the products of those two plans, the governor advocated a 10-state compact composed of representatives from each of the 10 basin states and an equal federal representation.

The governor placed the compact idea ahead of other possibilities he mentioned. One of those possibilities was to permit each federal agency now existing to continue to operate independently in the operation of GAVEL FROM NORRIS TREE PRESENTED—John M. Clemens, (left), representing the directors of rural electrification associations, presents a gavel to James E. Lawrence, chairman of the Missouri Basin Survey Commission. The gavel was taken from the wood of a tree planted by the late Senator George Norris at Beaver Crossing in Furnas County. both development plans.

Two other possibilities mentioned by Peterson were to continue the operation of the Missouri Basin Interagency Committee as it now is or to continue it after giving it legal and authoritative standing.

"I am opposed to any type of 'Authority' for the basin," said Peterson, "because I don't want to see a super governmental authority imposed upon this area."

In answer to a question from Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. of Missouri, commission vice-chairman, Peterson stated that he would also be opposed to an Authority with states having advisory representation.

Replying to one of Peterson's earlier statements, Sen. James Murray of Montana stated that the reason behind public sentiment against an "Authority" was "the powerful propaganda put out by private power industries in an effort against getting any federal power to the people."

"I am opposed to an 'Authority' now myself simply because of the propaganda which has made an 'Authority' appear highly dangerous."

Peterson gave an affirmative "no" to Commission Chairman James E. Lawrence when he asked the governor if equal rights in the proposed compact would lead to a stalemate in deciding major issues.

The governor again answered "no" to Lawrence when asked if politics might not play an important part in staffing the administration of completed developments if the various state governors carried equal voting rights.

The sharpest exchange of words during the entire morning session came between Lawrence and Peterson with the latter defending a recent statement to the effect that "the blood of any deaths due to future floods on the Missouri River resulting from the failure of the Congress and the President to provide funds for completion of the Garrison and Fort Randall dams will be on the hands of the President and Congress."

Delay in completion of those dams, maintained Lawrence, "has not been due to the failure of anyone to provide funds but rather, to the inability of the engineers to secure adequate labor and materials."

Lively Exchange

There was also a lively exchange of words between Peterson and other commission members in regard to the governor's plan for equal federal and state rights in the proposed compact for administration of basin improvements.

Other commission members who are also congressmen reminded the governor also that in the allocation of funds, there is not enough to go around and that the basin states represent only one-sixth of the people in the entire country.

Concerning the compact personnel, several commission members reminded Peterson of the fact that a majority of federal funds are used in development of projects within the basin and that those funds represent the money of all people in the nation and must be protected and cared for on that basis.

Rep. Carl T. Curtis appeared briefly before the commission to advocate a program along the same lines as that presented by Peterson—a combination of large dams, soil conservation and stabilization of small streams.

At the conclusion of the morning session, the commission was presented with a gavel from John M. Clemens on behalf of the director of rural electrification systems. The gavel has been taken from the wood of a tree planted by the late Sen. George Norris at Beaver Crossing in Furnas County.

The gavel was in commemoration of the contributions made by Norris during his lifetime to the development of the natural resources of the state.

The commission members were honored at a luncheon by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Friday noon at the Cornhusker.

Basin Compact Plan Outlined

Nebraska's Governor Val Peterson presented a proposed Missouri Basin Compact to President Truman's Missouri Basin Survey Commission Friday which envisions a body composed of a commissioner from each of ten member states and at least three and not more than five commissioners of the United States.

Nebraska, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, Wyoming and Montana would become members upon ratification of the compact by their respective legislatures and the United States upon favorable action by Congress.

Iowa, Minnesota and Colorado may also become members, although they would be entitled to only one vote on the commission. Other member states would have two votes each.

The commissioners of the United States shall be entitled to a vote equal to that of the total number of votes of the commissioners of the member states present and must be cast as a unit.

A digest of the compact:

Salaries and personal expenses of each commissioner shall be paid by the government which he represents. All other expenses incurred by the commission shall be paid by the commission out of its own funds.

Purpose—To facilitate agricultural and industrial development of the Missouri River Basin through a unified intergovernmental program for the management, conservation, storage, utilization and development of the water resources and for irrigation, soil life and property from floods.

Powers—To make comprehensive plans and adopt policies and procedures to effectuate integrated operation in release, storage or diversion of waters of the Missouri River Basin.

All governmental agencies and private developments proposing projects having a substantial effect on interstate relations in the use of waters of the Missouri River system shall be required to submit operation plans as to release, storage or diversion.

The commission shall, in any instance where it finds that the operational plan for a proposed project conflicts with its plan of integrated operation, make such recommendations as it deems necessary to appropriate governments.

Co-operate with any and all agencies in the development and management of the water and related resources of the Missouri Basin.

Make integrated plans for the conservation, development and utilization of the water.

Lincoln A's Will Be Back In '53—Johnson

Lincoln Hits Dodgers, 3-2

Mangini's Bat, Ozzie's Six-Hitter Spell Victory

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Lincoln continued its mastery over the docile Pueblo Dodgers, 3-2, at Sherman Field Friday night, but the Dodgers finally broke a drought of unhappy holding.

By scoring in the fourth inning, the Dodgers gained their first run against the A's in 55 consecutive innings.

Ozzie Van Brabant, although weakening in the last two innings, managed a six-hitter for his 11th victory.

In the doing, the fireballing Van

Brabant struck out 10, upping his season total to 118, and provided the A's with a sixth straight triumph over the Dodgers.

Cheered by a sweep of the two-game Pueblo series, the A's now entertain sixth-place Wichita in two single games. Jim Bell (8-9) will face the Indians tonight at 8 o'clock.

After trading runs in the fourth, the A's booted home two clinchers in the seventh. Pueblo countered with a solo run in the eighth, but could not quite close the gap.

Joe Mangini, a prolific producer in the clutch in recent outings, was once again hero of the A's place artillery.

John Joe's clean single to right in the seventh brought home Jim Trew (on base on an error) and Bill Stewart (walked) with the two deciding runs.

Billy Shantz toured the bases in the fourth on a walk, Richardson's free pass and Bob Gardner's single to center.

A single by J. C. Walker, lustily backed by Gus Postoles's triple to right, stood up for Pueblo's run in the fourth. The Dodgers scored in the eighth on Bob Crain's double and Postoles's pop to Trew.

Van Brabant's lethal combination of speed and curve and the A's own fielding prowess relieved two tense situations.

Ozzie struck out three straight men after Postoles's triple in the fourth. After he walked Jack Elkins (the tying run) in the ninth with one out, a tidy double play (Trew-Gardner-Mangini) ended the game.

Chilly weather, plus Pueblo's current listless plight, cut the crowd to 638. In the stands was Senator Ed Johnson of Colorado, the president of the Western League.

Footnotes: Chris Van Cuyck, late of the Brooklyn Dodger mound staff, will join the Pueblo Dodgers today. He has been sent down from the parent Dodgers because of control trouble.

Departure of Cy Buker, relief pitcher and pinchhitter, for his teaching job in Wisconsin left the A's with a roster of 18.

Second Baseman Jim Trew also teaches during off seasons.

Tribe Takes Over AL Lead; Athletics Fourth

... Bobby Shantz Registers 22nd Win

From Press Dispatches

THE American league standings underwent a thorough shakeup Friday as the Cleveland Indians took over first place by one percentage point and Philadelphia moved into fourth by an even slimmer margin.

The Indians relegated the New York Yankees to second place for the first time since June 14 with a 6-to-4 victory in the opener of a vital two-game series at Yankee Stadium.

A crowd of 43,138 saw Luke Easter drive in four tallies with a three-run homer and a single and the Tribe engineered the first American league triple play of the year in the fifth inning.

Mike Garcia won his 16th game for the Indians, although relieved by Bob Lemon in the sixth. Allie Reynolds was the loser. Joe Collins hit a three-run homer off Lemon in the sixth.

Philadelphia swept a doubleheader from St. Louis. Bobby Shantz recording his 22nd win in the nightcap, 9-0, after Rookie Charlie Bishop won the opener, 5-2.

Gus Zernial and Shantz were the big guns in the second game. Shantz meting out only four hits while Zernial drove in seven runs with a first-inning grand-slam homer off Satchel Paige and a single that cleared clogged sacks in the second. The homer was his 23rd.

The double victory put the Athletics in fourth place by .0008 in the percentages. Chicago was left just that far behind, although the White Sox won a single game from Boston, 4 to 1. Washington slipped to sixth when it lost to Detroit.

Voorhees grabbed his lead early in the day by breaking 98 of 100 targets and no one was able to catch him. A still breeze plagued the course most of the day, but it proved to be a big help to the Nebraska. "The wind blows almost constantly over the course of our gun club at home," Voorhees said. It was nly his second try for the coveted prize. (AP Wirephoto.)

WL Teams Favor Return, Says Prexy

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Lincoln will definitely be in the Western League in 1953. Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), president of the Western League and the man who would know, gave that assurance to this writer Friday night.

The senator, who was born in Lincoln and who was an all-around athlete at Lincoln High, was at Sherman Field to watch the Lincoln-Pueblo game.

"There is no disposition in any quarter of the league to keep Lincoln out of the league," said the Senator. "We are definitely counting on Lincoln for 1953."

"The Western League is very much pleased with the fine attendance of Lincoln, despite a tail-end club, a slow start and bad weather early in the season. I am anxious to keep Lincoln in the league for both sentimental and geographic reasons. I grew up here and Lincoln's location is ideal for us from a geographic viewpoint."

He spoke of a drainage system which will be installed at Sherman Field for 1953.

"This should give the A's many games that might have been called off because of wet grounds. Give Lincoln a better weather break and the A's will hold up with any team in the Western League."

The Senator couldn't give

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees today acquired Ray Scarborough, Boston Red Sox pitcher, for the $10,000 waiver price.

Last year he won 12 and lost nine games with the Red Sox.

Since his old contract carried through next year, Friday's action means that Stanky will direct the Cardinals through 1954.

Cathedral Shifts To 11-Man Game

Aldrich Counting On Ten Vet Gridders

By WAYNE PANTER
(Star Sports Staff Member)

For better or for worse, Cathedral High School enters a new era in football competition this season.

With an enrollment placing them in Class B under NSAA rules, the Bluebirds had hoped to shift last year from the six-man game to 11-man football but were unable to line up a schedule.

This season nine games have been slated and the "Birds are in business as a full-fledged 11-man club."

The year delay in shifting may not have too much of an adverse effect on the club. Last year Coach Vince Aldrich's charges were unanimously declared state mythical six-man champs, with a record of 10 wins against no losses and an offensive mark of 509 points scored against their opponents.

Not one to "pour it on," Aldrich made it a practice to utilize his each game, thus giving his under-classes valuable experience for the coming season.

Aldrich lost 11 players—including All-Staters Eddie Cripe and Dick Neal—from last year's team, but he still can count on the service of eight lettermen and two certificate winners, in addition to a group of reserves that had the benefit of scrimmaging against the best six-man club in the state.

Other lettermen lost to graduation include Henry and John Steinauer, Wayne Reeves, Tom Rice, Earl Williams, Emmett Vaughan, Tom Truman, Tom Cowan and John Gourlay.

Nucleus of this year's backfield will be Denny Costin and Joe Clark, a combination of speed and driving power which together contributed 126 points toward last year's successes.

Tom Studnicka also lettered as a back and Tommy Brady and Stan Peters earned certificates in similar roles.

The big problem this year, Aldrich will tell you, is to put together a line. In that category are five veterans—John Fagan, Jerome Bartek, Dave Kubitschek, Dick Mobley and Bill Krueger—who'll average in the vicinity of 165 pounds.

Friday morning the largest group of candidates ever to report to the Bluebird mentor worked out at Muny Field as Aldrich got drills under way with a session on fundamentals.

Calling on veteran team members to demonstrate the kind of hard-charging, aggressive football that was the trademark of last year's club, candidates for this season's crew were early getting an idea of what it will take to earn a starting berth.

The nine-game schedule for the coming season contains the names of some of the better Class B and C clubs in the state. Heading the list is Omaha Holy Name, last year's Class B champion club. Other high spots include St. Cecilia of Hastings, St. Bonaventure of Columbus and a resumption of competition with College View, prewar traditional Bluebird rival.

All Cathedral home games will be played on the College View High School field. The 1952 schedule:

Sept. 12—At Syracuse; 19—at St. Mary's of Grand Island; 26—at St. Patrick's of Fremont.

Oct. 3—Open; 10—Omaha Holy Name; 17—at College View; 24—St. Joseph of Omaha; 31—at Weeping Water.

Nov. 7—At St. Bonaventure of Columbus; 14—St. Cecilia of Hastings.

Dom DiMaggio Hurt Chasing Nellie's Fly

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Red Sox purchased center fielder Dom DiMaggio suffered a thigh muscle injury chasing a fly ball in Friday's Chicago-Boston game and will be out of action for three or four days.

The swift "little professor" said he hurt his leg in the third inning going after Nelson Fox's second consecutive triple. Manager Lou Boudreau replaced him with George Schmees in the fifth.

Yankees Pick Up Ray Scarborough

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees today acquired Ray Scarborough, Boston Red Sox pitcher, for the $10,000 waiver price.

The right-hander has won only one game for Boston this year, and has been charged with five defeats.

Reports Indicate Moscow Ready To Junk Bulgarian Premier

Chervenkov Not Trusted

BELGRADE (INS) — Reports reaching Belgrade from Bulgaria indicated Friday that Bulgarian Premier Vuko Chervenkov—until recently a trusted “yes man” of the Kremlin—has lost Moscow’s favor.

There were even rumors he is confined to his home in Sofia, the Bulgarian capital.

Chervenkov is known to be in Sofia, but has failed to appear at public functions which ordinarily would demand his presence and also at party conferences usually attended by members of the Bulgarian Politburo.

Misses Five Events

The reports said he was absent from five recent Sofia celebrations. Two were for “Soviet Navy Day,” attended by all other high officials, and that for the anniversary of the creation of the “Fatherland Front” coalition.

These reports predicted that Chervenkov soon will be replaced in both government and party offices by Deputy Premier Gheorgi Chankov.

Chervenkov’s reported downfall is said to have been decided in Moscow on the recommendation of L. P. Beria, Russian Politburo

Japanese Sending Gift Of Animals To Australia

TOKYO (INS)—A giant salamander, four monkeys and two badgers, gifts from Tokyo’s Ueno Zoo to Melbourne Zoo, sailed Friday aboard the Kokoku Maru, a 9,900-ton vessel.

Melbourne Zoo had sent Ueno Zoo a red kangaroo, wallabies, kookaburras, wombats and Australian wild ducks under an animal exchange scheme sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of Tokyo and Melbourne.

Members who visited Sofia during late July and early August. A main reason for Moscow’s dissatisfaction is said to be Chervenkov’s opposition to Soviet suggestions for new monetary reforms in satellite Bulgaria.

It also is claimed that Chervenkov rejected Soviet demands by Beria for additional Bulgarian contributions to the Soviet military machine.

More GIs To Have Body Armor Suits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army announced Friday that it has ordered 25,000 suits of body armor of the type now used by the Marine Corps.

Both the Army and the Marines have tested their different kinds of armor in Korea. Both have been reported to be effective in preventing wounds from mortar shells, hand grenades and other low-velocity missiles and fragments.

The Army said it has arranged to get the armor suits through the Marine Corps because that type, made of rigid fiber glass plates curved to fit the body, has been in production on a volume basis since October, 1951.

Smuggling Ring Probe Keeps Officials Busy

TOKYO (INS)—An Australian embassy spokesman indicated Friday that Raymond A. Laughton, 26-year-old Australian businessman, is under arrest in connection with a ring accused of smuggling huge amounts of dollars into Red China.

Three American servicemen have been sentenced on charges of acting as banking intermediaries for the ring, and Japanese authorities have arrested 73 Japanese, Chinese and Koreans suspected of working for the combine.

Postmaster Feels Resignation Best In Chicago Case

CHICAGO (INS)—Chicago Postmaster John Haderlein resigned Friday, effective Aug. 31.

Haderlein wrote Postmaster Jesse M. Donaldson that he wanted to be relieved because of the publicity over the forthcoming federal grand jury investigation of alleged job buying in the Chicago Postoffice.

The investigation is to begin next Tuesday.

Postal inspectors reported several hundred cases in which promotions allegedly were bought for $300 to $1,600.

Two Sheridan School Land Oil Leases Sold

Two oil and gas leases on Nebraska school land in Sheridan County were sold Friday, pending approval by the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

M. O. Garten was applicant for the two leases, bidding 50 cents per acre. The combined acreage of the two leases equals 1,079.37 acres.

The sale of these leases will bring the total oil and gas leases of school land in the state to 1,300.

been subpoenaed for the grand jury. Haderlein was not among them.

Missouri Fair Back On Track After Tornado

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP)—There still was some wreckage visible, but the Missouri State Fair operated at almost full blast Friday in a remarkable comeback from Thursday’s early morning tornado damage.

Friday’s program moved along as scheduled. The only exception was the cancellation of the Grand Circuit harness races because of the muddy track.

The storm killed one fairgrounds worker; injured 17 others and caused damage unofficially estimated in the millions to the fair and surrounding areas.

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska: Temperatures will average 3 to 7 degrees above normal (normal lows 55 in northwest to near 60 southeast, normal highs near 86); warming trend during the week-end; cooler about Monday and warmer in middle of week. Rainfall will average 1/4 to 1/2 inch in west and 1/2 to 3/4 in east.
